A Lancaster man has been charged with the criminal solicitation of a minor.

George Russell Scarborough, 56, was arrested Dec. 21, 2022, according to S.C. Attorney General Alan Wilson, who announced the arrest Wednesday, Jan. 5.

Scarborough was arrested by the Internet Crimes Against Children (ICAC) Task Force, in conjunction with the Mount Pleasant Police Department and the Lancaster Police Department.

Investigators said Scarborough “solicited a person he believed to be a minor for sex,” according to a release from the S.C. Attorney General’s Office.

He has been charged with one count of criminal solicitation of a minor, a felony punishable by up to 10 years in prison.

This case will be prosecuted by the Attorney General’s Office.
